United Gas winter flow set at 52% of firm need

United Gas Pipe Line Company, a unit of United Energy Resources, Inc., in testimony filed yesterday with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, projected gas supplies available for delivery during the 1977-78 winter heating season of 370.86 Bcf, representing curtailment of 48 percent of firm requirements of 710 Bcf.

These figures compare favorably with projections filed by United in its Form No. 18 Report in September 1976. At that time, United projected deliveries of gas during the 1976-77 winter heating season of 351 Bcf, representing curtailments of 51 percent of firm requirements.

Actual deliveries during the 1976-77 winter heating season amounted to 387.6 Bcf, representing actual curtailments of 45 percent of firm requirements. This improvement in actual deliveries compared with projected deliveries was attributable largely to emergency purchases made during the winter months.

United is again making every effort to acquire additional gas through emergency purchase and other procedures for the 1977-78 winter heating season, a release this week stated.

Hancock leads coast in tourist dollars

By JAKE JACOB
Hancock County leads the three coast counties in tourist-related sales gains for the second quarter of 1977, according to statistics released this week by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg.

With national travel indicators up over the same period last year, the end of June, '77 period showed that while demand for commercial lodging and lodging occupancy rates both showed gain, and highway traffic volume and travel by common carrier were likewise on the upswing, the public use of national parks showed a real drop over 1976.

Restaurant sales in Hancock, Harrison, and Jackson Counties totaled some $22 million during the second quarter of 1977, an increase of 16 percent over the same quarter of one year ago.

Coastal hotel-motel sales, described as being a meaningful indicator of non-local activity, were up five percent from the second quarter of 1976, to a $10.2 million total.

A breakdown of statistics shows Hancock registered a gain of 43 percent in restaurant sales for the second quarter, versus the 17 percent over 1976 gain shown for the first three months of 1977.

Relative percentage climbs for Harrison were 20 percent up during the second quarter and only 9 percent over 1976 for the first three months.

Jackson indicated even less gain at eight and five percent respectively. Estimated in thousands of dollars, all tourist oriented incomes reflected the increase, with the biggest hike being a 43 percent total reported in Hancock. (Continued on page 4A)

Kiln library dedication set Sunday

A new branch of the Hancock County Library System will be dedicated on Sunday in Kiln.

Located on the west side of Highway 603, just north of the flashing light, the library is situated on the grounds of the Hancock County Farm Bureau.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors and the Library Board of Trustees have issued an open invitation to the public for their participation in the dedication ceremonies scheduled to commence at 2.30 p.m., at the new library.

The branch will serve many residents who were formerly users of the bookmobile.

Library System Director Prima Wusnack, said this week that instead of (Continued On Page 9A)

Mrs. Jean Townsend of Waveland whose right to serve on the board has come under question.

Mrs. Townsend, who has sold her home in Waveland and purchased another on Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis, apparently feels a move to oust her from the board on that basis is underway, headed by Superintendent J. D. McCullouch.

"I am not pointing the finger at any individuals but only against a vicious trend which if allowed to continue will destroy this Board," Mrs. Townsend said in a prepared statement she read at the opening of Monday night's meeting at Bay St. Louis High School.

On the advice of board attorney Sam Farve, the board took no action on the question after Farve said Mrs. Townsend's position on the board is not in jeopardy.

The attorney pointed out, however, that Mrs. Townsend's right to sit on the board could be questioned in court under a "quo warranto" proceeding which can be brought by a private citizen.

McCullouch said he sought an attorney general's opinion on Mrs. Townsend's right to retain her seat after receiving several calls on the matter.

McCullouch said he consulted Mr. Favre after receiving the calls from persons he "...would rather not name at this time."

Favre said he also had received calls from area residents questioning Mrs. Townsend's right to remain on the board since she no longer lives in the jurisdiction (Waveland) from which she was elected.

Favre confirmed he advised the (Continued on page 4A)

United Way Review (4)

Girl Scouts of America

By MARGUERITE COX
American and Americans are known for their institutions and the common phrase is this or that has "become an American institution." Such is the case with many volunteer organizations that have been around for a long time and seemingly are always around. Few know much about them, only that they have been around a long time and are still here.

These so-called institutions are here through the hard work and diligence of many volunteers, and few paid staff, and a funding agency called the United Way.

Once again funds are gathered by many volunteers and a small paid staff, and the fruits of the labor of these volunteers feed the hearts and minds of many through activities and services provided by funds collected.

There is a large segment of young women in the Bay St. Louis-Hancock County area that constantly benefit from the United Way volunteers and their own volunteers.

These are the Girl Scouts. Their volunteer leaders and administrators present a program that is an integral part of the community. This program is a sharing among youth and adult volunteers of an informal education process based on proven ethical values that help expand a girls' horizon. This international organization of over three million members offers a wide choice of activities tuned to the (Continued On Page 10A)

City-County Public Library

by Prima Wusack

THE EIGHTH SACRAMENT by Thomas Cullinan. The mysterious deaths of two nuns shrouds Sister Karen Higby's search for personal answers to love, betrayal, and the eight sacrament—which is death.

MICHAELMAS by A. J. Budrys. It is 1999. Laurent Michaelmas uses his hidden intelligent computer, Domino, in an effort to outwit someone who can raise the dead. Who is someone? Michaelmas thinks he knows; but where is that Someone? No one knows. Michaelmas and Domino have just eighteen hours in which to find the answer. As the world's most powerful newsman, Laurent is fighting the century's most incredible secret battle. It is for possible control of civilization itself.

SONG OF SOLOMON by Toni Morrison. In this third novel by Toni Morrison, a magical world is created out of four generations of black life in America. It is a novel expressing the mysterious primal essence of family bond and conflict; the feelings and experience of all people wanting, and striving to be alive.

THE DEVIL ON HORSEBACK by Victoria Holt. A novel filled with romantic suspense and characters set against the background of revolutionary France and eighteenth-century England.

DEATH KNEEL by C. Terry Cline, Jr. A chilling novel of retribution whose seed lies in the gas chambers of Auschwitz and whose climax evokes memories of THE EXORCIST and AUDREY ROSE.

THE IMMIGRANTS by Howard Fast. A love story that entangles the reader in the lives of the characters, so that after the book is closed, one continues to live with those characters. The book is complete in itself, but is also the first in a trilogy that will tell the story of three California families over the course of the twentieth century.

The following books can be obtained through any branch of the Hancock County Library System: QUEENS OF ENGLAND by Norah Lofts. Norah Lofts' new books is an unusual chronicle of English History told through the lives of the women who have over the centuries ruled as sovereigns in their own right, or as royal consorts. From Boadicea, who defied the Romans, to Elizabeth II, now celebrating twenty-five years on the throne, the Queens of England are given new dimension with all of Norah Lofts' compassion, wit and biographical skill.

BLOOD RED ROSES by Elizabeth Boatwright Coker. More than an historical romance, this is the story of a love that endures through war, intrigue, separation, and suffering. The heroine is one that every reader will love and admire and none will forget.

IN COLD PURSUIT by Ursula Curtiss is an absorbing novel about a bewildered woman who does not know who is threatening her life or why.

ALWAYS IS NOT FOREVER by Helen Van Slyke. After a glamorous, whirlwind courtship, Susan Langdon marries "the man of her dreams," world famous concert pianist Richard Antonini. But she soon discovers that their love has many obstacles. A heartbreaking but inspiring story of devotion and despair set against the self-indulgent world of the wealthy, cultural elite.

CRY WOLF by Wilbur Smith. The author of THE EYE OF THE TIGER. Smith's characters become involved in gunrunning and a classic lovers' triangle, sweeping them up in the fierce drama of Ethiopia's valiant struggle for freedom.

ATTACHMENTS by Judith Rossner, author of LOOKING FOR MR. GOODBAR. Nadine and Dianne are the closest of friends. It is a friendship of opposites. When, after disastrous first marriages, they married Siamese twins, it seemed to be for quite different reasons.

Vicious trend...

superintendent to seek an opinion from the state attorney general's office on the matter.

McCullough told the board he and Mrs. Townsend have had "differences of opinion...but always parted as friends."

Mrs. Townsend did not respond to the superintendent's remark.

"I am very sure of my own legal position and I have no real concern over that," Mrs. Townsend told the board.

"But Mr. McCullough should not have taken it on himself to handle this matter," Mrs. Townsend complained.

"My voter registration has not been changed nor will it be changed and I regard Waveland as my legal residence," Mrs. Townsend stated.

"It is not incumbent on me to prove what I own in Waveland in investments and properties," she said.

She said she operates a business in Waveland, "...is in Waveland every day..." and added that it is still her intention to get a new home in Waveland and live there.

"In the meantime I did check with the attorney general's office and told them of my position and they said since I planned to return to Waveland I could continue to serve on this board," Mrs. Townsend continued.

"I thought nothing more of the matter until the late evening of Sept. 22 when the board's attorney called me," she said.

On that evening, she said, the board's attorney told her, "Jean, I have some bad news for you. The superintendent of education has a letter from the attorney general's office saying your seat is legally vacant since you no longer reside in Waveland."

"Then the board's attorney read me the law with which I had no quarrel then, nor do I have any quarrel now—except this: that the law does not fit my case," Mrs. Townsend stated.

Mrs. Townsend said the temporary nature of her residence in Bay St. Louis, operation of her business in Waveland and her intention to return are the basis for an oral opinion she received from the attorney general that she is secure in her post.

"The point about all this is, why go through all the ramifications when the superintendent could have asked John Longo, the Mayor of Waveland, whether I had a right to continue serving on this board—or better yet, why not discuss the matter either with me or the board," she stated.

"I see through my own experience the beginnings of a trend which, if not stopped now, could become a real problem for this board in the future," she added.

"The school board doesn't have anything to do with it," Favre pointed out, noting only through the courts could Mrs. Townsend's position as an elected official be questioned.

The attorney said any written declaration of intent such as filing for homestead exemption in Bay St. Louis would take precedence over any oral declaration she might make about plans to move back to Waveland.

Mrs. Townsend emphasized she has not filed for homestead exemption in Bay St. Louis.

McCullough insisted he acted in good faith and only after receiving numerous inquiries about Mrs. Townsend's status and upon advice of the board's attorney.

"I don't want to get in any trouble with Mrs. Townsend," McCullough stated, adding, "She is one of my bosses."

In a position different from the Hancock County superintendent of schools who is elected, McCullough is appointed by the city school board.

Waveland's mayor, John Longo Jr., appeared at the meeting, but left quietly when it became obvious there would be no action by the board on the issue.

Board member Robert L. Hamilton suggested there be a motion to the effect of confirming Mrs. Townsend in her board seat.

But the suggested motion was ruled out of order by President Pro Tempore W. E. Breland following Favre's advice the board could not legally act on the question.

At her request, Mrs. Townsend's statement to the board was read into the minutes of the meeting.

Other excerpts from Mrs. Townsend's statement include the following:

"Everyone, I am sure, knows that I am an elected board member from the City of Waveland. I scored a four-to-one margin in the Waveland elections, so I believe I am safe in saying the overwhelming majority of the voters of Waveland wanted me on this board."

"Even as we took our temporary haven in Bay St. Louis, our roots remained in Waveland and that is still our intention to get a new home in Waveland and live there. My voter registration has not been changed nor will it be changed and I regard Waveland as my legal residence."

"I thought this was common knowledge to everyone."

"In the meantime, I did check with the attorney general's office and told them of my position and they said that since I planned to return to Waveland I could continue to serve on this board."

"When I wanted to get a copy of the superintendent's letter to the attorney general, I learned no letter existed; rather, the superintendent had called the Department of Education in Jackson and asked them to get an opinion."

"The point about all this is, why go through so many ramifications when the superintendent could have asked John Longo, the mayor of Waveland, whether I had a right to continue serving on this board—or better yet, why not discuss the matter either with me or the board."

"In closing, I am not pointing the finger at any individuals but only against a vicious trend which if allowed to continue will destroy this board."

Randolph said figures for further comparisons are unavailable. He said the period Oct. 1, 1976 to Sept. 30, 1977 is the first time records of this nature have been maintained at Stennis field.

"But we can honestly say that these figures are higher than they have ever been," Randolph said.

"Veteran airport personnel confirm that our current daily average of 25 operations is up from maybe three or four a day prior to last year, he stated.

"Last year we set a goal of 25,000 take-offs and landings for the coming year, and we made it," Randolph concluded.

The Pre-Arranging and Pre-Financing of Funerals

Talking about death is often difficult. Yet a death in the family may create problems for survivors which can sometimes be alleviated by discussion and pre-planning. Funeral and burial arrangements are an important consideration and should be discussed openly and frankly. Pre-arranging and sometimes pre-financing a funeral is a method some people choose to assist their survivors after death occurs.

In many things which are pre-planned, there can be unforeseen developments between the time of planning and of putting the plans into effect. This is especially true in the pre-arranging of funerals, since there is no way of knowing beforehand exactly when, where, how and under what circumstances death will come. And these unknown factors could alter original plans substantially.

Careful counseling with an experienced funeral director can avoid unwise planning or even fraudulent schemes involving particularly the financing of funerals in advance of death.

Autistic search begun by NSAC

More than 150 parents and professionals attended a founding meeting and seminar for the Mississippi Chapter, National Society for Autistic Children (NSAC) held recently in Jackson.

Sponsored by the State Department of Mental Health under its University Affiliated Program, the day-long session featured key addresses by Mrs. Emmy McClellan, Webster Groves, Missouri, National President of NSAC, and Mrs. Ruth Sullivan of Huntington, W. Virginia, Director of Information and Referrals for the National Society.

A morning panel discussion on autism was moderated by Edwin Butler of the State Department of Mental Health's Division of Mental Retardation. Panel members included several parents of autistic children and a number of professionals involved in programs that deal with the treatment and education of autistic and autistic-like youngsters.

Autism is a term used to describe severe disorders of communication and behavior that disable 4 in every 10,000 children born in the United States. Autistic children appear to suffer primarily from profound central processing disorders. They frequently have trouble understanding and relating to the world around them. Many parents describe their autistic children as severely withdrawn, "in a world of their own." Bizarre behavior patterns are often noted.

Current research in autism is pointing increasingly toward the probability of "biochemical error" as a major underlying cause of this rare disorder.

Officers for the new Mississippi Chapter - NSAC elected at the Sept. 29 meeting include Bill Colvin of Pearl, president; Norviva Geddie of Starkville, vice president; Brenda Strain of Jackson, secretary-treasurer, and Edwin Butler, Jackson, corresponding secretary.

According to Colvin the new organization will launch an immediate search to identify the autistic population of Mississippi and document the location of treatment and educational programs which may be helpful to autistic children and adults.

"We are in business, among other things, to help autistic children and their parents by serving as a clearinghouse for information on autism research that is now going on at an increasing pace all over the world," declared Colvin.

"In addition," he said, "we will be working hand-in-hand with other advocacy groups for the handicapped in seeking equitable treatment of our handicapped children, particularly in regard to their educational rights."

Persons desiring more information on the new organization are invited to write: Mississippi Chapter National Society for Autistic Children, P.O. Box 54092, Pearl, MS 39208.

When will help come

For years upon years dedicated members of the Humane Society have been pleading with the three local governmental agencies for allocation of millage for the construction and operation of a county animal shelter.

These citizens have been joked about, laughed about, and made fun of, but they keep coming back.

There is, at this time an animal shelter in Bay St. Louis and one in Waveland, both of which are inadequate, ill designed and poorly suited to the job.

Humane Society members have attended county supervisor and municipal government meetings in Bay St. Louis and Waveland numerous times pleading their cause. Yet, they haven't received the satisfaction they seek.

Our three governmental agencies all receive revenue sharing funds. In recent years the criteria for spending these funds has broadened. We feel these three bodies could, with a united effort, secure funds for this important project.

It is reported that one elected official is now trying to help the Humane Society by researching the possibility of acquiring money for a county-wide animal shelter. We commend him on his efforts and ask that all elected officials get on the wagon and help.

Dedication is a word that's not big enough to describe the years of unselfish work done by the Humane Society. The time is now for our officials to recognize this dedication, with a once and for all solution to a problem that affects every resident of our county.

Let the funds for a county animal shelter to be used by the Dog Wardens of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, and the County Board.

We will be looking at who helps the Humane Society.

Washington Report

By: Rep. Trent Lott

REFERENCE: CARGO PREFERENCE

BY T. TRENT LOTT

A bill debate is raging in the Congress and it involves a subject of critical importance to the future of this country—the transportation of imported petroleum products.

The debate is over the Energy Transportation Security Act of 1977, more informally known as the cargo preference bill. This is the legislation designed to reduce America's dependence on foreign-flag vessels for the carriage of this country's energy imports. I want to know at the outset that I have long favored this concept.

One of the fundamental purposes of the bill is to strengthen the national security posture of the U.S. by making conditions favorable for the expansion of the U.S. merchant marine fleet. Specifically, beginning Sept. 30, 1978, 50 percent of the oil imported into the U.S. would have to be carried by American flag vessels. The percentage would rise to 75 percent by 1982.

At present 97 percent of the oil imported into the U.S. now is carried on foreign flag vessels, such as those of Liberia or Panamanian registry, over which the U.S. has no control. Some other startling testimony led to my support of this bill:

1) America's merchant marine fleet of tankers has dwindled from 904 vessels aggregating some 12.7 million deadweight tons at the close of World War II to 235 U.S. flag vessels aggregating 10.7 million deadweight tons. Our merchant marine fleet can no longer support our military in times of armed conflict;

2) Shipyards across the country face a lack of work, in part because merchant marine vessels are not being produced;

3) Inspection of international vessels is notoriously weak and crew inspection is practically nonexistent. There is good reason to believe the tanker collisions, groundings and oil spills have been caused by foreign ships of inferior design, manned by under-skilled crews.

I am convinced that this legislation would protect our national security interests by giving the U.S. sufficient tanker capability for direct support of the military in an emergency, providing a nucleus fleet for the carriage of essential oil imports.

It would also generate jobs in shipyards and aboard ships which, in turn, would generate jobs in steel component industries, supplies and other supporting industries. The cargo preference bill could help prevent serious layoffs.

Also, American vessels built to the highest safety standards and manned by skilled American crews would decrease the likelihood of the collisions and oil spills which destroy our environment.

Now let's talk money. Authorities have concluded that any cost increase associated with this bill would range from less than one-tenth to two-tenths of a cent per gallon. For an average motorist driving 10,000 miles annually in a car that gets 20 miles per gallon, the additional costs would amount to about $1 per year.

The cargo preference bill also would improve our trade deficit by nearly $75 million a year. That is significant when you consider that our balance of payments soared in June to a record $2.8 billion and our oil imports to $3.9 billion. The legislation would ease the drain of the U.S. dollar.

I believe the reasons for supporting the cargo preference bill are strong ones and that true security will only be found when the U.S. joins the other 38 nations in the world with similar laws. Performance has demonstrated that the best ships afloat today are American, registered under the American flag and manned by American crews.

IT ISN'T THE TOWN—IT'S YOU

If you want to live in the kind of town
That's the kind of town you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll find elsewhere what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new.
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town.
It isn't your town—it's you.

Real towns are not made by men afraid
Lest somebody else gets ahead.
When everybody works and nobody shirks
You can raise a town from the dead.
And if while you make your stake
Your neighbor can make one too,
Your town will be what you want to see.
It isn't your town—it's you.

The philosophy of change (2)

To find a middle ground

The public relations practitioner has, in his many and varied bag of tricks, the knowledge that by necessity to perform his duty well, he must satisfy a variety of publics.

The usage of such plural maybe unique to that profession but the expansion of comprehension to understand its manifestations is the type of understanding now required of Hancock County residents when contemplating the future of this county (and its relationship with an increasing list of publics).

This understanding must adequately encompass the attitudes of private industry, the requirements of expanding military hierarchies, the peculiarities of government dynasties, the changing face of the land, the demands of a rapidly increasing population, the individual rights of social and religious variance, plus the flexing of political methodology.

In other words, like it or not, there are going to be some changes made.

It is difficult for many to accept the realization that "...the sleepy little seaside resort area..." the one-time holiday target of hundreds of excursioners from New Orleans, has lost its exclusiveness and, with the advancement of communication and transportation, become a center of attraction to industry and, through a different path, government scientific and manufacturing endeavors.

The fight, if that is the correct term, to retain the way of life known to many of the "...old school..." was actually lost years ago.

It was defeated by those who saw the need for change, the need to provide local people with a way to support their families, the need to move away from the "bedroom community" ideology and to replace it with a more responsible, progressive mode of thought.

There comes now the necessity of discovery.

Not discovery of a new land, but discovery of a means to accommodate the demands of change.

There now comes the necessity of finding the "middle ground."

The middle ground is nothing greater, more, or less, than an area of mental acceptance and the realization that with the influx will come the cosmopolitan approach and attitude, as well as the more readily recognizable left and right of center conformist.

Hancock County's current civic services, population, and social programs and attitudes are inadequate to cope with the present demand, let alone the expectancies of 1980.

The advent of blue and white collar influx will be the introduction of future demand to the commonly accepted community forum.

The advent of more non-conforming influx is already demanding a greater degree of understanding.

Neither can be lightly dismissed as something that will not happen or "...will go away if it is ignored."

The residents of Hancock County are facing almost unlimited opportunity, particularly for the future of their children.

To best avail themselves of this opportunity will first require their understanding of the degree of change.

This will hold true in the areas of demand, supply, and ideology.

The Peoples Business

PRIORITIES FOR CHANGE

If changes are to be made to improve the economic, educational, and governmental systems of our state, what should those changes be?

That is a tough question to answer. But, some 50 young business, professional, and student leaders met in Jackson last week and came up with some answers.

The group, studying "The Challenge of Change" at a Mississippi Economic Council seminar, called for equalization of property assessments, better administration of 16th Section lands where needed, and a constitutional convention to rewrite the state's 87-year-old governing document.

The delegates, all 35 years of age or younger, heard local, state, and national leaders discuss change in Mississippi. Authorities on education, economic development, and government shared their views with the group. When the discussion had ended, the delegates named their priorities for change.

Leadership Mississippi Committee Chairman Lewis Whitfield said the delegates expressed their views independently of any MEC policies, and he added that the young leaders plan to seek changes in their hometowns.

"The delegates felt that equalization of assessments, 16th Section land reforms, and constitutional revision could help move Mississippi forward. They seemed committed to those changes," said Whitfield.

The 55 participants in the program were selected from more than 200 nominees named by MEC members, local chambers of commerce, and college and university presidents.

If those young leaders accept the leadership role to affect the changes they proposed, Mississippi may well be in for dramatic revisions in government, economics, and education.

CANAL TREATY

October 7, 1977

Mrs. Joe Pliet
P.O. Box 230
Bay St. Louis, MS 39520

Dear Joe:

Thank you very much for contacting me about the Panama Canal treaty that has been negotiated by the Carter Administration. I have always supported the undiluted sovereignty of the United States over the Canal and Canal Zone and am, therefore opposed to this treaty.

Although the Senate has sole authority for ratifying the treaty, the House of Representatives does share responsibility for conveyance of this nation's lands to any other country. Therefore, I intend to work through this channel in opposition to the new Panama Canal treaty.

I appreciate knowing of your support for the position I have taken on this controversial issue. Please continue to advise me on matters of mutual concern.

With best wishes, I am
Sincerely yours,

Tuesday night L. J. Breaux was honored with a dinner in recognition of his 16 years as president of the county farm bureau. When elected president, the farm bureau had a total of 79 members, the year was 1961. The Hancock County Farm Bureau today has approximately 2000 paid members. There were many folks around the county at that time who said the club would never reach a membership of 100. Boy! were they fooled. The Farm Bureau now has the largest membership of any organization in Hancock County.

We all should send a big congratulations to L. J. Breaux, for his fine efforts in so many organizations in our County.

We are proud that he and his family chose Hancock County as their place of residence.

Farmers Market Shoppers please note that the market is open on Saturdays only. The support by everyone has been so strong that instead of closing for the winter they are going to open on Saturdays until further notice. We have reports from farmers that Fall Vegetables are plentiful because of a good growing season. The market is located at the Hancock County Fairgrounds and opens at 7 a.m. on Saturdays.

We know that it is a little late but we should commend the Waveland Police Department on a very fine job of traffic control during the Waveland Civic Association's Annual Fireworks. Chief Donald Dorn and his men in uniform couldn't have done a better job.

Bay St. Louis' beach front sure looks good where the city crew reworked the sand and cut the brush that was higher than the tractors when they started. We pass up and down the beach ourselves and really never pay much attention as to how our beach looks, but you can believe that whenever a stranger is here, the first thing they see is the condition of our beach. We should do everything we can to keep the whole beach clean and neat.

Have you noticed how the Bay St. Louis workmen have been cleaning the grass and weeds around the street signs and fire plugs. It doesn't look like it is of importance but it sure is a safety measure and important for the fire departments to be able to see the plugs. We can remember a fire in Waveland many years ago when the fire truck was having to move several hundred yards to get water when there was a fire plug in hose distance to the fire, but it was covered by weeds and no one knew it was there, especially the people fighting the fire.

Since returning from my trade mission to the Far East a few weeks ago, a number of Mississippians have expressed an interest in knowing more about the ways our state can benefit through foreign trade and investment.

In this week's report, I will talk about some of those potential benefits, especially involving our talks with Japanese industrialists.

Japan, along with the other countries we visited in the Far East, is rapidly developing as an industrial nation with millions of dollars to invest in other countries. We are simply trying to see that Mississippi shares in that investment, with the end result being more jobs and better paying jobs for our people.

Our trip to Japan was especially timely because we expect the United States Congress to put some pressure on Japan to invest in the United States. Currently, America has a trade deficit of some $5.7 billion with Japan. In other words, we are buying that much more from Japan each year than they are buying from us.

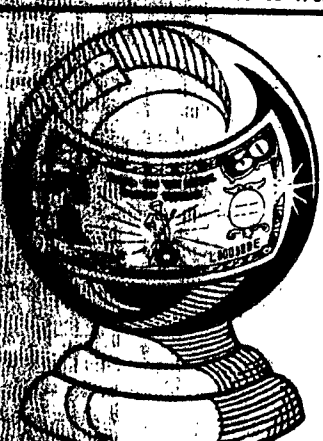

Such a deficit cannot continue. If it does, then the Japanese businessmen know that Congress will place some import restrictions and controls that would make it less advantageous for Americans to buy Japanese goods which are shipped into our country.

Many Japanese companies—especially the major automobile manufacturers—are looking at the U.S. for plant sites because cars manufactured in the U.S. would not be affected by any new tariffs. It simply would make more sense to build the cars in the U.S. and avoid the tariffs.

Here's an example: A Japanese auto firm manufactures a car in Japan, using Japanese workers, and sends it to the United States where it will sell for $4,000 under the current import regulations. Suppose, however, that a tariff of $500 was placed on each car imported into the U.S. for sale; then the cost to the buyer would be raised to $4,500—making it a less attractive buy when compared to a car manufactured in the U.S.

Such a price increase would certainly affect the company's sales to the extent that it would be more profitable to them to set up a plant in the United States, manufacture the cars here, and thereby avoid the extra $500 in the sales price.

These plants would then result in jobs for Americans and Mississippians, and that's exactly what we were seeking on the trade mission.

Good

Breaux, who will continue to serve on the board as vice president, and "state delegate if you want me," told the board that as they had advanced the session one week, to catch him off guard, he did not have time to prepare a speech.

He said he had overcome the problem by bringing with him his file of speeches made throughout the years, and therefore would be able to talk "...for several hours." If they felt like they wanted to listen.

He said that in 1960 he was informed that Hancock County could never get 100 members in the farm bureau. Telling of the leaps and bounds of progress, Breaux said in 1964 they had 186 members, between 1964 and '68, they doubled this to 332, between 1968 and '71 they doubled it again to 880, and now the membership just "...keeps growing."

Of the future, Breaux said he could see another increase in due, probably to the $20 figure, and the necessity of the Hancock group operating a "full service" bureau at their Kiln location.

He indicated the "...lime business..." looked like another area into which the bureau could consider expanding.

Rester, a former state senator, said he had worked with Breaux since 1968, and knew the role played by his president in enhancing the Hancock Farm Bureau's reputation throughout the state.

"Year after year his reputation grows, not only as a farm bureau president, but as a church and community leader, and family man."

"The Hancock County Farm Bureau is the largest organization in the county and its reputation is high and growing throughout this state," Rester said.

Breaux, in his remarks, had praised the efforts and dedication of his board, and also of the office staff.

Rester told the group that without the dedication of Breaux, his job, and that of the other staff members, would have been ten times as difficult.

"When we had a problem with Jackson is was Louis Breaux that got on the phone and squared things away for us," Rester allowed.

Lee, who spoke briefly, said he hoped to maintain the Breaux traditions and called on the board to help him all they can.

"If we do get into a controversy, let us do the thing that's best for the county and the membership," Lee asked.

Speaking of the "land grab" - in reference to the current state mineral commission leasing practices, Lee said the farm bureau resolution committee just couldn't believe the local resolution, asking they consider its rewording.

"We had it right in the first place. They just couldn't believe the state would take something away that a person had paid taxes on for years," Lee explained.

Greenhouse draws members at 3rd Garden Club picnic

By MRS. F.B. BOOKHARDT

Sunny skies smiled down on members of the Bay-Waveland Garden Club gathered in the garden of the Jan Brameyer home last Thursday, Oct. 6, for their third annual picnic-meeting. The greenhouse was the center of attention as Mrs. Brameyer told how her husband had designed and built it for her to pursue her hobby of gardening.

Following luncheon, a brief meeting was conducted by Mrs. Herman Mazarakis, president. Mrs. John Holmes reported on the Spanish Trail District Meeting held in Ocean Springs. "Operation Wildflower" is their new project, and members were urged to start gathering seeds of wild flowers. These seeds will be planted in state parks and at entrances to towns.

Awards Chairman, Mrs. Clarence Evans, announced that the Bay-Waveland Garden Club is on the Honor Roll, has been awarded a Blue and Gold certificate for outstanding work in horticulture fields, and a Red Rosette for second place in achievement of the year's work for 1976-77, as written in the club president's report in May.

Mrs. Brameyer presented two artistic design dried flower arrangements and asked Mrs. Augustus Elmer to say a few words about them in constructive criticism. Rooted cuttings of geraniums were given to each member present. These plants will be entered in a special class in the Spring Flower Show in April. Mrs. Holmes read the history of the geranium.

Mrs. John H. Cook, Jr. spoke on the predatory nature of the mocking bird, and related a story of role-reversal when a mocking bird attacked the cats that had been left in her care, forcing them to retreat indoors.

Garden of the Month for Bay St. Louis is the home of Mrs. Helene C. Price, 544 Highland Drive, and for Waveland it's the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Cox, 614 Sixth Street.

Pilgrimage Chairman Mrs. George L. Seuzeneau, Jr. announced that selection of homes for pilgrimage on March 29 is now complete. This news was greeted by a round of applause for a job well done.

Senior High School Gardeners Chairman Mrs. Randolph Bourgeois reported there are now 50 members and asked for volunteers to help her work with the students. Mrs. William Goodell, Chairman of the Junior High School Intermediate Gardeners, has also had to recruit help as their membership is now 35.

will include the stopping of cars seen after a certain time of night. Williams has asked that anyone stopped by police be cooperative in the effort to curtail the break ins.

"It will only take a few minutes," said the chief. "The police will be just checking, not harassing."

The police chief has also asked that anyone spotting anything suspicious call the police on the Crime Stop line by phoning 467-3447. All callers will remain anonymous if they desire.

Broken into over the weekend were Car Parts Center, Bay Liquor Store and Kergosien Realty.

The front door at the Car Parts Center was reportedly broken and $20 missing according to owner Mrs. Provost. Bay Liquor store reported $75 stolen. Entry was reportedly gained through a broken front door. Kergosien Realty reported that a soft drink machine inside the office was pried

The break ins are allegedly the work of vandals.

Approximately $579 was reported missing Sunday from the Halebus home at 603 Beyer Dr. Mrs. Halebus reported that she left home Sunday morning and came back that afternoon to find that her home had been broken into and several household items, including a color television, a black and white television and an electric organ were missing.

In other police action, police have arrested Nick Saucier, of Bay St. Louis, 18, and a minor on an affidavit signed by Louis Davis of Shieldsboro Drive. Davis has charged the two with assault with a deadly weapon after they allegedly cut him on his left side. He was later admitted to Memorial Hospital where he is reported to be in stable condition.

the usual form of book cataloging, the books will be grouped according to interest categories.

The library director said, "An innovative approach has been used in setting up the Kiln Library."

"Except for encyclopedias and reference books, the entire book collection will be paperback. Furthermore the Dewey Decimal Classification will not be used in arranging the library's collection of materials. Instead the books will be grouped according to categories such as mysteries, gardening, best sellers, business, and sports."

Mrs. Wismack also elaborated on additional materials to be made available at the new county facility.

"Besides having magazines, pamphlets, and a wide choice of titles for all ages, patrons may request any book from the collections at the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis, or at the Waveland Library on Coleman Avenue, Waveland," the director said.

Hours for the Kiln Library are to be from 1 to 5 p.m. every Thursday.

US Air Force seeks nurses

Recent graduates of nursing schools with a bachelor's degree in science or nursing may now apply for a direct commission as an Air Force nurse and a five-month internship, possibly at the medical center here.

Nurses commissioned as second lieutenants receive $878.61 per month in pay and allowances during the first six months. After six months, nurses with bachelor's degrees are promoted to first lieutenant, upping the monthly income to $1,021.

"Two hundred openings are available from October this year to September 1978 as a part of a one-year test program to determine the feasibility of establishing a permanent internship program in the Air Force," said Lt. Col. Dixie K. Childs, Air Force nurse recruiting division chief at Randolph AFB, Tex.

"Nurses selected to participate in the internship program must have nursing experience," Colonel Childs said. Nurses with more than a year of experience may also apply but would not be given the internship.

After selection, nurses will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Force Nurse Corps. They will attend a 10-day orientation course at Sheppard AFB, Tex., prior to beginning their internship at one of five Air Force hospitals.

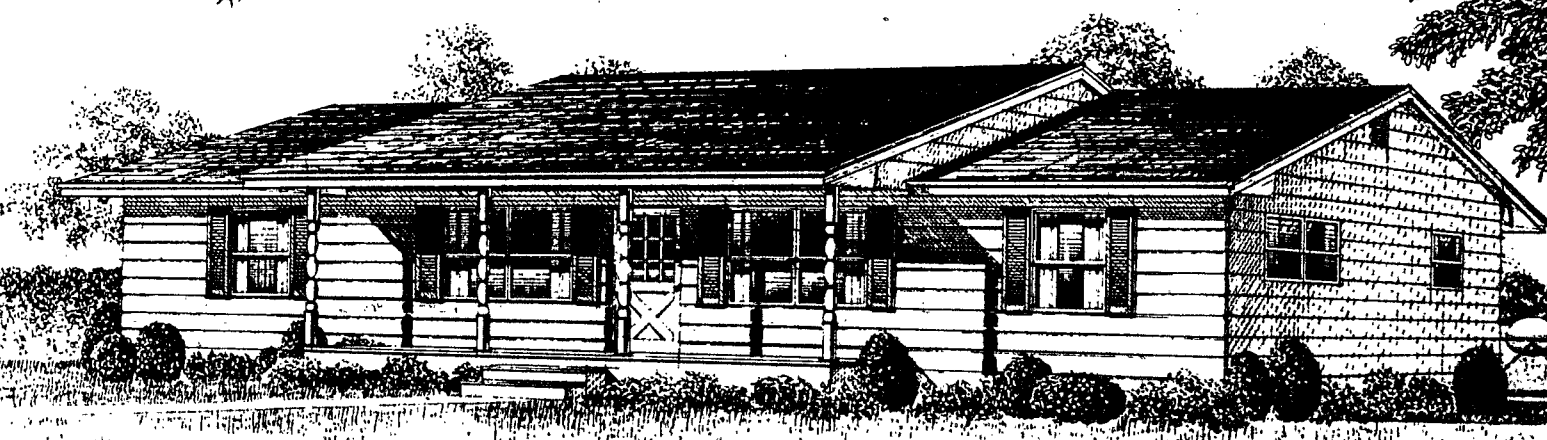

Hospitals participating in this program are located at Keesler AFB; Andrews AFB, Md.; Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio; Scott AFB, Ill.; and Wilford Hall Medical Center, Lackland AFB, Tex.

Assignment as a staff nurse at one of some 100 Air Force hospitals or clinics will follow the five-month internship.

Girl Scouts...

Interests of today's girls. These activities stimulate self-discovery, provide fun and friendships, help develop skills and build self-confidence. All of this doing and having, and being is crammed into four divisions of girl scouting.

Ages range from six to 17 years, from the Brownie to the discovery years of scouting, to the Seniors, in the belonging, learning, teaching, sharing and shaping the future years. Scouting offers it all.

Discovery, belonging, adventure, dreaming, shaping future years are all words and phrases that go hand in hand with Girl Scouts.

At the first thought of Brownies, one gets the mental picture of many little people scurrying about in their activities with lots of chatter and enthusiasm.

This is possibly the reason the first years of girl scouting is called Brownies. These years are, for the most of the girls, their first experience in belonging and being part of a group. They meet in groups, make friends and have fun together. Brownies wear special clothes that only Brownies can wear. They sing, dance, have fun with special grown-up friends and learn to help others.

During the past year, Brownie troops in the Bay-Hancock Neighborhood of Gulf Pines Girl Scout Council did all these things, including such as the mall event, day camp, weekly meetings and a host of other activities.

Brownie Scouts are able to take advantage of all the exciting things that help them to be themselves, through the United Way. As one of the girls put it, "you can be happy only when you be yourself."

All things that grow must have care, direction and a unique ingredient that keeps growth moving so as not to become stagnant, or get off course.

Adventure is one of the key words when we think of growth, for each new experience in growing is an adventure as are the junior girls of Girl Scouting.

In the wide range of activities in Girl Scouting there are activities that stimulate self-discovery, develop skills and build self-confidence and in each case, new adventures and continued growth.

The junior years in scouting are learning about other people and cultures, and making friends with people from other countries. It might be camping under the stars, learning to repair a bicycle, to draw or paint, or, perhaps, operate a ham radio.

Scouting in the junior years is getting down to business with direction and challenge, meaningful adventures and real world experiences.

Just a couple of years away from Brownies - remember the little people with lots of chatter and enthusiasm - juniors are growing.

Girl Scouts in the age category of 12-14 have the opportunity to enter the cadette ranks, a time when dreams are of seeing more of their world and taking a bigger part in it.

Opportunities are at every hand in Cadette Scouting to explore with others

their age, the opinions and values that will support them throughout life.

Cadettes plan their own activities to fit into and enrich their busy lives. They develop their own individual potential. In addition, they put into action, as a group, all the things they've always wanted to do.

Group involvement promotes growth in awareness and understanding and the development of skills of being true friends and valuable members of the community.

Girl Scouting is an informal education process that helps expand a girl's horizon.

From the chattering, enthusiastic Brownies, through the adventurous junior years and into the decision-making involved Cadette years, the girls' horizons are gradually expanding and patterns of life are being carved. Carved from proven ethical values and standards by dedicated leadership that has made Girl Scouting the international organization of over three million members it is today.

Senior Scouting is a long, long way from a program designed for children. The Senior scout is from age 14-17 and more than likely been involved in Scouting since age six.

She has experienced Brownies, Junior and Cadettes and now finds herself at the pinnacle of Girl Scouting - A Senior Scout.

She's ready. Ready because the informal education of Scouting has provided her activities that stimulate self-discovery, provided fun and friendship, help develop skills and built self-confidence.

Now it's time for belonging, learning, teaching, sharing and the opportunity to get involved with something that has far-reaching effects, whatever they choose.

In senior scouting, the young woman has the opportunity to participate in the very best that the Girl Scout movement has to offer. They are called upon to be decision-makers by meeting with other seniors on planning boards, or serving on council boards and committees.

Seniors travel as representatives to regional, national and international events and conferences, as well as explore careers or take training to become leaders at camp or elsewhere.

The Hancock County United Way has also come a long way. Each year volunteers meet the challenge to provide funding for Girl Scouts activities, just as Girl Scout volunteers meet their challenge for providing the leadership needed to guide girls and young women through the levels of scouting.

The United Way is the Girl Scout way. Without the United Way, Girl Scouting would not be, and without Girl Scouting opportunities would go unrealized, dreams would not be dreamed, potential would be undeveloped, and there would be a missing link in the growing chain of many young lives.

The United Way of Hancock County makes it happen for Girl Scouting and it is up to volunteers and donors to make it happen for the United Way.

Tulane eyes homecoming

Reunions of graduates, parties, a student festival, and the crowning of the 1977 homecoming queen will highlight activities of Tulane University's homecoming weekend Oct. 14-15.

The Tulane Green Wave will play Cincinnati in the Saturday night homecoming football game which climaxes the alumni weekend.

Theme for the extravaganza is "Way Down Yonder in New Orleans!" The student-sponsored Superfest, which replaces the traditional homecoming parade, begins at 11 a.m. Saturday and continues for four hours of games of chance with raffles, rides and musical entertainment.

At 1:30 p.m. that afternoon, the Model A Club of New Orleans will stage a parade of antique automobiles near campus.

More than 30 graduating classes will hold reunion parties and dinners as part of the homecoming festivities. Many of them will continue their celebrations at the Friday night homecoming dance, beginning at 10 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Hyatt Regency Hotel.

Featured attraction at the event will be "Jubilant," apopular group made up of many Tulane alumni and led by Leland Bennett, assistant director of Tulane's University Center.

The yearly convocation of the Tulane Alumni Association will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday in the University Center, with entertainment by "The Last Straws" Dixieland Band.

The Distinguished Alumnus Award for 1977 will be presented at the convocation, and outstanding graduates from each of Tulane's Schools and colleges will be recognized. New officers of the alumni association will also be installed during the meeting.

Climax of the festivities will come at halftime to the Tulane-Cincinnati game with crowning of the 1977 homecoming queen and a performance by the "Old Grad Band."

Depreo takes part in NATO exercise

Navy Fireman Recruit Charles E. Depreo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldo H. Depreo of P.O. Box 5, Kiln, is participating in the major NATO exercise "Display Determination." He joined the Navy in April, 1977.

Depreo is serving as a crewmember aboard the aircraft carrier USS Independence, homeported in Norfolk, Va. His ship is deployed to the Mediterranean Sea as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

The ship has joined naval forces from Portugal, Italy, Greece, Turkey, and the United Kingdom for the combined exercise which includes convoy operations, amphibious assault landings and antishubmarine warfare maneuvers. "Display Determination" is designed to train NATO naval forces in combined sea operations, refine NATO procedures and ensure that operational plans are current. Participating units will test NATO standardized doctrines, equipment and armaments, plus command and control procedures for coordinated action by NATO sea, land and air forces.

The operation will evaluate allied capability to control Mediterranean sea lanes plus reinforce and resupply ground forces in Southern Europe. Acting as opposing forces, NATO units will simulate surface, subsurface and air attacks along the convoy routes. A series of amphibious landings also are scheduled at Saros Bay, Turkey, with follow-on exercises continuing ashore.

I was in the market for a late model Chevelle and saw one at Turan-Lane Chevrolet. I was very pleased on how clean it was and how it had been taken care. Sales Representative Mary Beth demonstrated the car for me and gave me a reasonable deal that was hard to beat. I am very excited and feel like I have bought a clean late model Chevelle.

Hawks still undefeated

Hancock looking for sixth straight win

By RANDY LANKFORD
KILN - The more a team wins, the more it is expected to win.

That's the case of the Hancock North Central Hawks. At the top of the season, the Hawks were expected to win six or seven games.

Now that the Hawks have won their first five the pressure is beginning to mount as people here start talking about an undefeated season. The Hawks will make a bid for their sixth straight win Friday when they travel to Carriere to take on the Pearl River Central Blue Devils.

In the last four weeks the Hancock team has faced Bay High, St. Stanislaus and Lumberton. After the Bay High game the Hawks had an open date. If a team needs a good rivalry to keep a sharp edge the Hawks should be well honed going into the Friday night game. Head coach Irvin Favre sees the Blue Devils as just as big a rivalry as the Bay and Stanislaus teams.

"We have a lot of people living on the border line between the two schools. They know each other and talk about the schools. We're only about 25 miles apart. That makes for a pretty good rivalry. They always get up for us and play us a good game," continued the Hancock coach. "They consider us a very big rival. They feel that they can have a good season if they beat two teams, Poplarville and us."

The Blue Devils have already beaten Poplarville and Hancock now stands as the only obstacle in Pearl River's path.

The obstacle in Hancock's way this week is the size of the Pearl River team, according to Favre.

"They are definitely bigger than us. Just about everyone is. We're just not a big team. We have a couple of people that go around 200 but they have a lot more size than we do," lamented the coach.

Two of the 200 pounders that Favre is worried about are fullback Kevin Stewart and halfback Randy Fisher. Stewart tips the scales at 210 for the Blue Devils and Fisher weighs in at an even 200.

"They must outweigh us by about 20 pounds per man across the line," added Favre.

Hancock a wishbone team, will have its own offense to contend with this week as the Pearl River team also works from the wishbone formation.

According to Favre, the Blue Devils operate the offense as well as any he's seen.

"They run the option very well and with that big fullback (Stewart) they work off tackle and on counters too."

"They are so much bigger than us that we have to hope our speed and quickness can compensate for their size."

"This week will be different than last week. They are a well balanced team all around," added Favre.

Last week the Hawks ran their record to 5-0 with a bruising 9-6 win over Lumberton. The game took its toll on the Hancock team says Favre.

"We had a light practice Monday since we had some people bruised up last week. We're trying to add a little aggressive edge to practice."

We made up for it on Tuesday though. We had a real good, head-knocking practice. We're trying to add a little aggressive edge to practice."

The team is going to have to be very aggressive in this game and we want them to be ready for it, so we want them to be aggressive in practice too," said Favre.

On the defensive side the Blue Devils will most likely be in the five man front they have used all season.

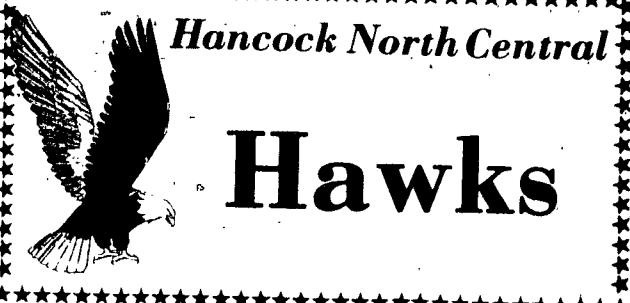

"We just have to play it by ear for awhile and see what works best against their defense and then just go with that. They do a good job on all phases of the game and they will be tough Friday night," commented Favre.

When asked if the pressure of being undefeated was mounting on his team, Favre replied;

"I don't think so. We want to be the best team Hancock has ever had and that is something the players are working toward. I don't think the pressure will bother them. They will stick with it and do everything they can."

"We don't have any easy games. When a team is undefeated they never have any easy ones. Everyone is looking for them. They all want to be the team that knocks us off."

TIGERS

By RANDY LANKFORD
The Bay High Tigers, still looking for their second win of the season, will travel to Vancleave Friday to face the 5-1 Bulldogs of Alton Waltham.

Vancleave will come into the Pascagoula River Conference football game with its latest win coming against East Central last week. The Tigers most recent loss was at the hands of the Long Beach Bearcats last week. If there can be a bright spot in a loss there was last week for the Tigers. For the first time since

Pirates heavily favored

Pass Christian not taking breather

PASS CHRISTIAN—With a 5-1 record on 0-5 team on the schedule, the Pass Christian Pirates might have a right-to-go into Friday's game against St. John a little cocky.

Although they have the right chances are they won't use it. The Pirates are after some revenge on the Eagles. The St. John team took a 13-7 upset victory against Pass that cost the Pirates the Pascagoula River Conference championship last year.

Head Coach, Rogers is looking for some revenge.

"We don't see this game as a breather. They have some huge people over there and we're going to have to work against them. We don't see any game as runaway. They could do the same thing to us that they did last year," said Rogers.

Looking at the records for

Pass Christian

this season, it would be easy to understand if Rogers had some trouble getting his Pirates up for the game Friday. After all, the Pirates are 5-1 and tied for second in the conference race. The Eagles are 0-5 and dead last in the conference. The Pirates have scored 152 points so far this season and given up a scant 40 points so far all year to opposing teams. The Eagles have a meager 23 points for the year and have allowed opponents a whopping 348.

The revenge factor is what Rogers is counting on to excite his players as they search for their sixth win.

"If they had kept you out of the conference championship last year wouldn't you want revenge?"

The Pirates will face a multiple offense from the Gulfport team according to Rogers. The St. John team uses various formations including, split backs, slot, I, and other formations.

On the defensive side the Eagles use a five man front, says Rogers. When asked how he would cope with the St. John defense, the Pirate boss answered:

"We are blessed with a lot of speed and we will use that mostly. That defense leaves the outside open a little bit. We will try to work outside on them."

Leading that outside attack for the Pirates will be sophomore Gene Lang. Lang is currently second in the conference with seven touchdowns for the season.

Rogers pointed to the Eagles punting game as their strongest point and added that he was pleased with their kicking.

"There's such a thing as out kicking your coverage. If they kick the ball well that will give us a chance to set up our returns before they can get their coverage downfield."

The speed of the Pirates might just be the deciding factor in the game, especially since the Pass Christian team remembers last year's 13-7 upset at the hands of St. John.

FOOTBALL WINNER—Shelly Havery of Bay St. Louis copped first place in the Sea Coast Echo's football contest this week. Shelly missed only two of the 12 games she predicted and came within nine points on the tie breaker to take the $10 prize.

Rebs reside in Heartbreak Hollow

UNIVERSITY, Miss. Add another chapter to the legends of "Heartbreak Hollow."

For the second straight week, Ole Miss fell short in a last-minute bid for victory away from its home turf.

First it was a fourth-down pass from Tim Ellis to Curtis Weathers against Auburn two weeks ago. A pass just inches long from changing the outcome of a 21-15 televised War Eagle win.

Then last week, it was a two-point conversion attempt that went awry as Georgia clipped the Rebs 14-13, handing Ole Miss its third consecutive defeat against two wins.

"Hopefully we're going to have something good happen to us soon," said Rebel coach Ken Cooper after the heart-stopper. "We've been mighty close the last three weeks to come away empty handed."

The Reb mentor said there was no doubt about whether to go for two after Ellis' eight yard pass to Weathers with 2:23 left brought his squad within one. "We wanted to win," Cooper said. "That's what we work for all week and all year—to win when we play. It was the thinking of the players, the coaches and myself to go for two."

Ole Miss, behind 14-0 entering the fourth quarter, was hurt more when starting ankle injury. But Ellis quarterback Bobby Garner stepped up and on his first left the game with 10 minutes remaining with a knee and

Robinson, Borne place in boxing

BILOXI—Darrell Robinson and Billy Borne won decisions for the Hancock Boxing Club against Biloxi's Boxing Club Oct. 8.

Robinson copped his win in the 90 lb. division with Borne's coming in the 125 lb. division. David LaFontaine lost a decision in the 95 lb. division. All three boxers are 14-years-old.

The Hancock Club will face its next test against the Hattiesburg Boxing Club Oct. 15. Competing for the Hancock team, along with Robinson, Borne, and LaFontaine will be Robert Mitchell, Mike Stringer, Gerald LaFontaine and Asa Hill.

The Hancock team is under the direction of Harvey Mitchell and is working toward the Junior AAU Olympics. The team is also looking for a site for its Oct. 22 match.

The Hancock Club will be hosting Manero, Kenner, Long Beach, Gulfport and the Delta Boxing Clubs in the match.

PRC drops heartbreaker

BILOXI—Pearl River Junior College's Wildcats scored on the last play of the game here Saturday night but failed on a two-point conversion try with no time left on the clock to drop a heart-stopping 21-20 game to the Gulf Coast Bulldogs.

It was another classic battle in the long list of Wildcat and Bulldog franchises which brings out the best in Mississippi Junior College football action.

Gulf Coast battled back from a 14-point deficit to take a 21-14 lead late in the fourth quarter only to have the Wildcats march from their own 20 yard line and to score on the final play of the game with a 45 yard pass from quarterback Jeff Davis to wide receiver Bobby Rankin.

No time was on the clock when Rankin finally crossed the goal line. The last gasp TD minute march and a delay of game penalty was tacked on; the Cats then decided on the right people for the two-point play.

Davis was forced out of the Jones, the nation's number-two ranked team.

Pearl River opened with a tremendous first quarter, racking up 14 points and keeping the Bulldogs out of Wildcat territory the entire first period.

The Wildcats kicked off to Gulf Coast and two plays later Ray McNair recovered a Perk fumble at the 10. Three carries by Memphis McAbee and a five yard penalty the Wildcats were on the scoreboard. With 12:47 to go in the first quarter Clarence Piazza booted the Cats out in front 7-0.

Minutes later and after a poor Gulf Coast punt the put the score at 21-20 in favor of the Bulldogs and set up the win or lose extra point try.

Head Coach J. C. Arban, as everyone expected, decided to go for all or nothing and the Wildcats came up with no more points. Arban had used up all his time outs in the last pocket and while rolling to his left was trapped back on the 14 yard line. The PAT had failed and PRC had lost by the slimmest of margins.

Gulf Coast is undefeated in the south division and their victory sets up the important match next week against Lewis Murray (second from right) head coach at Bogalusa, La., High School and Willie Ray Morris (right) postal carrier in Poplarville, represented the 1949 team.

Archery season has been underway for almost two weeks now, but I haven't heard of anybody making any kills. I've heard about some misses though. There's two ways to kill a deer with a bow and arrow. That's either by the use of great hunting skill and patience or by accident. The way to attain the former is to become proficient with your weapon and then take to the woods as much as you possibly can. The latter requires very little prior preparation, but also results more often than not in losing the animal that has been shot. No matter which route you take you still have to reason a great deal of luck.

Hunters facing busy weekend

JACKSON - Most of the weekends in October will be busy ones for state hunters, and Saturday, promised to be no less as squirrel hunting opens in Zone III and archery season on deer continues statewide.

Game and Fish Commission figures show that squirrels are Mississippi's most popular game animal, with over 150,000 hunters spending nearly 1.2 million days afield each year, and harvesting slightly more than 2.5 million.

Squirrel hunting will get underway this Saturday in Zone III counties of Leake, Scott, Smith, Covington, Rankin, Simpson, Jefferson Davis, Lawrence, Marion, Walthall, Pike, Lincoln, Copiah, Hinds, Warren, south of I-20, Claiborne, Jefferson, Adams, Franklin, Wilkinson, and Amite.

Squirrels are hunted on all of our state wildlife areas, Game and Fish Director Joe Stone said. "There has been a tremendous increase in hunting pressure on squirrels over the last several years, and this makes it imperative that sportsmen be aware of their responsibility to improve squirrel populations and their habitat in areas having poor hunting," Stone said.

The state has three basic types of squirrels. The Delta fox squirrel, the Hill fox squirrel, and the Gray squirrel, are all found in different parts of the state, Stone said. The daily bag limit on squirrels is eight.

Archery season on deer continues open in all 82 counties through October 30. The season reopens November 1.

Bow hunting for deer has jumped in popularity in Mississippi from 100 hunters in 1952 to some 14,000 last year. On a national level, only five to eight percent of the bowhunters bag deer each year, with less than five percent of the deer harvested last year taken by archers, according to the state Bowhunter Association.

Game and Fish Commission data reveal that good weather and expanded deer management combined to boost Mississippi's deer harvest during the archery season last year to 1,987, a 78 percent increase over the previous year.

Some 1,631 deer were taken county-wide last bow season, with the remainder taken on state wildlife areas. The ten leading counties for deer hunting were: Claiborne, Wilkinson, Bolivar, Jefferson, Washington, Warren, Carroll, Issaquena, Greene, and Lafayette.

"All that is needed for squirrel hunting is a basic hunting license or a combination hunting license," Stone pointed out. "In addition to either of these two, bowhunters must have an archery license and a deer and turkey license. Also, if they plan to hunt antlerless deer, they must have the Mississippi Special Deer Tag. The bag limit on deer this year is one adult buck per day with antlers visible above the natural hairline. There is no season limit on bucks. The limit on antlerless deer, however, is one per day, two per season, but no more than three per license year with the special tag.

Deer hunting hours are one-half hour before sunrise until sunset.

Buccaneer Crew Notes

This weather is made for camping! Last weekend's beautiful weather encouraged many outdoor enthusiasts to enjoy themselves at Buc-caneer. The Fall brings lower temperatures, fewer bugs and more enjoyable weekends.
Come out and take advantage of this season before winter comes down on us!

This weekend will bring a lot of fun things to do including:
a tennis tournament for ages 16 and over; a nature hike - and if we're lucky, some bird observation; a story hour;
making a leaf collection; and volleyball game.

Parents, if you want to get your children involved in some outdoor recreational activities, try our Junior Park Ranger Program. It is designed to acquaint boys and girls, ages 7-15, with the natural environment, conservation and park work. It is free, open to anyone in that age group and conducted on an individual, flexible schedule. After certain requirements have been completed, a membership card, a certificate and an arm patch is awarded.

Plans are underway for craft classes to be conducted in our recreation hall by some volunteer senior citizens.
When more definite plans are determined I will report them.
I am attempting to find teachers for various classes, so any suggestions on classes are welcomed.

These classes will be open to anyone who wants to join.

Daughters of Confederacy offer rare old newspaper

By M. JAMES STEVENS ADVISOR UNITED DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY

Underneath the Confederate soldier statue in front of the old Harrison County Courthouse was a box containing records of the United Daughters of the Confederacy who erected it in 1911. The box also contained other memorabilia of the time. When opened, however, it was found waters from Hurricane Camille in 1969 had entered and filled the box.

"Everything was destroyed" said Mrs. Cassie Rouse, chairman of the UDC Memorial Statue committee, "except a penny and a nickel and a copy of the 'Woman's Daily Herald' dated October 12, 1911. Through the good efforts of the Mississippi Department of Archives and History 90 percent of this 18 page newspaper were dried out and found readable. In researching we find it is the only copy in existence today. This we consider to be a good omen for the statue and its future.

Tiger Lily GC officers named

Bay High Tiger-Lily Garden Club, sponsored by Bay-Waveland Garden Club met Thursday, Sept. 29, in Bay Senior High Home Ec. room with Mrs. Randolph Bourgeois, group coordinator.

Officers elected for the coming year were: Suzanne Soulie, president; Myra Haynes, vice-president; Alice Lynch, treasurer, and Alane Carlson, secretary. Mary Ann Scianna was appointed publicity chairman.

Members voted to keep a scrapbook of the club's activities for the year. Laurin Cogglin was named chairman, Janet Bell, photographer, and Daphne and Melanie Mitchum and Danita Scianna, artists for the project.

It was announced members will participate in Bay-Waveland Garden Club's annual flower show to be held in April.

nor private collectors have a copy. It is a rare collector's item. Through the help of the Harrison County Board of Supervisors, only 1,000 copies have been pictured on good paper stock. Libraries will receive copies for public use. Other copies may be obtained through members of the four UDC Chapters on the coast at $2 each.

This special edition of the Daily Herald was given as a souvenir to all Confederate Veterans and their Sons attending a three-day reunion at Gulfport in October 1911. It presents histories of Gulfport, Biloxi, Long Beach and Pass Christian; churches, clubs, hospital, music, library, husband-hunting, pictures, etc., plus advertising of the time.

A copy will be placed in a special time capsule under the Confederate Monument at its new location at corner of 19th Street and 23rd Avenue to be dedicated October 28.

Officers of the United Daughters of the Confederacy from whom copies of this specially reproduced old newspaper may be obtained include Mrs. Joe Pilet, 520 Highland Drive, Bay St. Louis (UDE No. 582124) 467-5551.

Old book tells of area

The Women of Trinity Church in Pass Christian are selling a book, ALONG THE GULF, which is now in its third reprinting, by popular request.

The first printing of this book was in 1894 when Charles Lawrence Dyer wrote an entertaining true story of an outing covering the beautiful resorts from New Orleans, La., to Mobile, Alabama.

The book contains chapters on Waveland, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Long Beach, Mississippi City, Handsboro, Biloxi, Ocean Springs, and Moss Point.

Scranton, Pascagoula, and Moss Point.

Magnificently illustrated with copper engravings, the book depicts prominent citizens, places of business, and lovely old residences of yesteryears.

The book sells for $5.00 per copy and profit from the sales goes toward the upkeep of the grounds at Trinity as well as additional landscaping.

Available through the church office, or if you prefer you may buy a copy locally through Joe Pilet of 520 Highland Drive in Bay St. Louis.

Outstanding Negro scholar named at SSC

Brother Eldon Crifasi, principal of St. Stanislaus High School, has announced that senior Anthony Carter has been named as a semifinalist in the fourteenth annual National Achievement Scholarship Program for Outstanding Negro Students. Carter is one of 1,500 semifinalists among more than 60,000 students who requested consideration in the 1976 Achievement Program. Selection is based on the 1976 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

To advance in the competition, Achievement Program semifinalists must qualify as finalists by meeting additional requirements. Semifinalists must be fully endorsed and recommended for scholarship consideration by their high school principals, maintain high academic standing, and confirm their qualifying test scores with scores from a

Mrs. Richard (Nadine) Stamm displayed one of her most recent paintings, a study in quail life on antique-finish background. Mrs. Walter Holt, of Gulfport, displayed an heirloom diamond necklace thought to have been fashioned approximately 150 years ago. Mrs. James R. Young of Long Beach displayed pottery shard and some unpolished stones, while Mrs. Robert Bird also of Long Beach, displayed both polished and unpolished "fairy crosses" and explained the legends surrounding these Virginia mountains crosses. Mrs. Payne displayed a group of several corn husk character dolls that she had made, and Mrs. Toledano's colorful catch-box was displayed. Mrs. George Gundlach of Pass Christian displayed a handsome, beaded pocket book, emerald crown jewels and an exquisite bedspread embroidered in gold threads, all gifts from her Korean friends. Mrs. Gundlach passed photographs and told something of her many interesting experiences while a visitor in the Far East. President, Carter, will receive a gift from the group. As a part of the entertainment, the hostess displayed a pair of extra-size drop-seat "Long John" underwear that she had bought from a flea market for "two bits". Guests were selected to write a paragraph explaining what best use could be made of the garment. Winning paragraph, submitted by Mrs. Young said: "We definitely should continue using this valuable article for the purpose it was intended. But just who may have the greatest need for it? The first person to decide we must get back to nature and set the thermostat back to 65 degrees was our President. Therefore, I would send the Long Johns to President Carter so he will be comfy in that cold, cold old house." The package has been mailed to the president as a belated birthday gift, as the decision was made on his birthday. Assisting with refreshments were Mrs. Fred Sinquefield of Gulfport, and Mrs. De Ben at the double punch service and Miss Ruth Cazeneuve assisted

Good Taste for Good Sports

Fall means the gang's all here again—crisper weather perks appetites for food and fun. It's a perfect time to plan an informal party, before or after the game—or during it, for armchair athletes who prefer to watch the action on TV. Whatever your crowd's favorite sport, and whatever the scope, they'll go for this tempting DEVILISH HAM DIP. A creamy tart-sweet blend, delicately spiced but mellow. It's a natural with raw vegetables or chips as dippers. Sweetened condensed milk gives smooth consistency and provides a base to harmonize other flavors. It's a good idea to make a double batch—this easy-to-do dip will go fast.

DEVILISH HAM DIP
(Makes 3 cups)

1 can Eagle® Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk	1/4 cup finely chopped onion
1 (4 1/2 ounce) can deviled ham	2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1/4 cup pickle relish, well drained	1 teaspoon thyme leaves
1/2 cup chili sauce	Assorted fresh vegetables, potato chips or crackers

In small bowl, combine ingredients. Chill to blend flavors. Serve with assorted fresh vegetables, potato chips or crackers. Refrigerate leftovers.

Christmas toy program at PRJC

In a joint operation, the Pearl River Junior College DECA (Distributive Education Club of America) and VICA (Vocational Industrial Club of America) will begin collecting toys for needy children in the Poplarville area. "We're not after brand new toys," said D. R. Davis, sponsor of the local DECA Club, "one child's broken toy is another child's dream." DECA will spend most of their time collecting the toys. Collection boxes are being placed around campus or toys may be left with Davis at the Marketing Building on the PRC campus.

One system for all seasons

The electric heat pump is a single heating and cooling system that automatically keeps your home comfortable as the outside weather changes. It is truly one system for all seasons. The heat pump is so energy efficient that it delivers two units of heat for each unit of electricity it uses. That's why it is the only comfort conditioning system efficient enough to meet requirements for the E3 Home. The heat pump is clean, easy to install, reliable and will save money on your energy bills. If you are building or if your present heating and cooling system needs replacing, get the facts on the energy-saving, money-saving electric heat pump from Mississippi Power.

HERE'S HOW THE HEAT PUMP WORKS

In the winter, the heat pump moves heat from the outside (yes, there's heat even in the coldest air!) inside to warm your home.

In the summer, the heat pump cools your home by automatically reversing the process, removing heat from inside your home to the outside.
